What is the Army Family Covenant?

The Army Family Covenant commits the Army to provide Soldiers and Families a Quality of Life commensurate with their level of service and sacrifice. Domestic abuse undermines the Army's promise and negatively impacts Family Readiness. The Army Family Advocacy Program's Victim Advocacy Services are integral to the Army's efforts to uphold its commitment to provide Soldiers and Family members with a strong, supportive environment.

What is a Victim Advocate?

A Victim Advocate (VA) is a trained professional who provides non-clinical advocacy services and support to Soldiers and Family members experiencing domestic abuse. Victim advocates are on-call 24 hours a day/7 days a week to provide crisis intervention, safety planning, non-judgmental support, assistance in securing medical treatment for injuries, information on legal rights and proceedings, and referrals to military and civilian resources. The on-call VA will empower you to make informed and independent decisions to support your recovery process.

What is Domestic Abuse?

Domestic abuse is an offense under the United States Code, the Uniform Code of Military Justice, or State law involving the use, attempted use, or threatened use of force or violence against a person of the opposite sex, or the violation of a lawful order issued for the protection of a person of the opposite sex, who is: (1) A current or former spouse; (2) A person with whom the abuser shares a child in common; or (3) A current or former intimate partner with whom the abuser shares or has shared a common domicile.

What are my Options for Reporting Domestic Abuse?

Restricted Reporting — Allows victims the option of receiving medical treatment, advocacy and counseling without triggering the official investigation or Command involvement

Restricted reports may be made to:

- Victim Advocates
- Chaplains
- Medical Professionals
- Behavioral Health or Clinical Family Advocacy Program

Unrestricted Reporting — Victims receive medical treatment, advocacy, counseling, and an official investigation of the allegation. This option allows the widest range of rights and protections to the victim.

Unrestricted reports may be made to:

- Victim Advocates
- Military Police (MP's)
- Chain of Command

Are There Exceptions to Restricted Reporting?

Safety is of the utmost importance, thus exceptions to the Restricted Reporting Policy do exist to prevent or lessen a serious threat to the health/safety of the victim or others. Your VA will explain in detail the exceptions and eligibility requirements for restricted reporting.

Restricted reports will automatically be considered unrestricted in the following situations:

- If a child is involved
- If the person is pregnant
- If the person is a danger to themselves or others
- If a weapon was involved
- If strangulation was involved
